This is a story of Mexican family that arrived in America
in the 1920s for the first time. And so, it
is a tale of
immigration,

settlement and cultural adjustment, as well as generational progress. Carlos B. Gil, one of the American sons born to this family, places a magnifying glass on his ancestors who abandoned Mexico to arrive on the northern edge of Los Angeles, California. He

narrates how his
unprivileged
relatives walked
away from their homes in western Jalisco and
northern Michoacán and
traveled over
several years to
the U.S. border,
crossing it at

Nogales, Arizona,
and then finally
settling into the
barrio of the city of

San Fernando.

Based on actual interviews, the
author recounts
how his parents
met, married, and
started a family on
the eve of the Great Depression.

With the aid of

their testimonials,
the author's
brothers and
sisters help him tell
of their growing up.
They call to
memory their
father's trials and
tribulations as he
tried to succeed in
a new land,
laboring as a
common citrus
worker, and how

their mother
helped shore him
up as thousands of
jobs on account of
the economic crash
of 1929. Their story
takes a look at how
the family survived
the Depression and
a tragic accident,
how they engaged
in micro businesses
as a survival tactic,

and how the Gil
children gradually
became American,
or Mexican

American, as they entered young
adulthood
beginning in the 1940s. It also
describes what life
was like in their
barrio. The author
also comments
briefly on the

generations and, in
the Afterword,
likewise offers a
wide-ranging
assessment of his
family's experience
including
observations about
the challenges
